FAPA LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD (LTAA)

FAPA LTAA is a distinguished award given to a pharmacist who during his or her lifetime has made lasting outstanding life-long contributions for the betterment and benefit not just the pharmacy profession but also pharmacy institutions and society. It is to be international in scope and stature.

The Award places a priority on demonstrable tangible persistent performance rather than those that are purely academic in nature, meaning the contribution must have an impact on practice and society, resulting in the improvement or betterment of the pharmacy profession.

The contribution must be recognized not just within the local community but also internationally.

The first Award was given during the 2014 FAPA Congress, and will only be given to a deserving candidate who meets the criteria set by the FAPA Council. The frequency of presentation is determined by the FAPA Council, and not exceeding one each time during the Congress.

The nomination must be through a FAPA member organization and has personal membership, either in active practice or in recent retirement.

Criteria for Award

Documentary evidence supporting the nomination must have indications of:

- Significant or outstanding contributions that benefits the pharmacy profession and the environment of practice, either through research or other activities.
- The work carried out to be consistent and steadfast for a continuous period of at least 15 years.
- The contributions having demonstrable impact and influence on the advancement of the pharmacy profession and the wider community.
- Showing recognizable leadership and inspiration to the pharmacy community within and across national borders, and be exemplary in nature.
